

THE LYNDE & HARRY
BRADLEY
FOUNDATION

2019 YEAR IN REVIEW

A Letter from Our President and CEO

Recently a selection of writings by Harry Bradley, one of our founders, was brought to my attention. Harry's thoughts, which were put to paper in the 1950s, described how he and his brother Lynde started the Allen-Bradley Company and how their values enabled it to become a remarkable American success story.

Harry Bradley

“Lynde wanted, and so did I, people who thought of their jobs not in terms of paychecks, but as the end result of their own work. We were small, but we were building for more than a day, and for more than a year. To us, every job was an open door to the high ground of human freedom and general happiness,” he wrote.

Harry also shared his views on freedom, human dignity and American principles. “A nation’s progress is measured by the character of its people, and not by the promises of its politicians. It seems hard for politicians to comprehend one simple truth: There is no source of national income, but the work of the people,” he observed.

While Harry and Lynde lived in a very different era, their core principles and aspirations - the ability to improve society through education, innovation, and free markets; the role of government; and the application of the Constitution - continue to be at the heart of our country’s current philosophical debate.

At such a critical time in our history, I know they would be pleased that the principles of American exceptionalism they so firmly believed in continue to be advanced every day through The Lynde and Harry Bradley Foundation and its remarkable grant recipients.

In 2019, the Foundation awarded nearly $42.1 million to local and national organizations that are aligned with our guiding principles to protect and defend Constitutional order; strengthen the free market system; support educational efforts to give citizens the character, habits, and knowledge to succeed; and to cultivate a vibrant civil society.

The Bradley brothers cared deeply about Milwaukee and Wisconsin and contributed generously to local organizations. In keeping with this commitment, the Foundation awarded $10,325,000 in grants last year to 92 organizations throughout their hometown and state that are focused on arts and culture, communities and families, and education.

Our grant recipients are undertaking some of the most courageous, innovative and thoughtful approaches to solving local and national challenges. I encourage you to learn more about how they are transforming lives, bettering communities, and defending freedom.

The past year also marked a significant chapter in the Foundation's history with a move from Milwaukee's eastside to downtown. The new location reaffirms our dedication to the city and is a perfect fit for the Foundation's mission to restore, strengthen, and protect the principles and institutions of American exceptionalism.

With a renewed focus, we look forward to advancing the Foundation's mission by supporting organizations that strengthen the fabric of society, just as Lynde and Harry Bradley did so many years ago.

The Lynde and Harry Bradley Foundation
1400 N. Water Street, Suite 300, Milwaukee, WI

Sincerely,

Rick Graber, President & CEO, The Lynde and Harry Bradley Foundation

Our Philanthropic Legacy

In 1903, brothers Lynde and Harry Bradley launched an endeavor in Milwaukee that would have a profound impact on both the local community and the nation. Through ingenuity, hard work, risk-taking, and compassion, they built a business that eventually became the Allen-Bradley Company, a leading electronic and radio components manufacturer. In 1985, the Allen-Bradley Company was sold to Rockwell International. A portion of the proceeds of that sale provided the initial funding for The Lynde and Harry Bradley Foundation.

Lynde and Harry Bradley believed in freedom and in the richness of community and culture that are the basis of a well-lived life. The Bradley Foundation seeks to further those beliefs by supporting the study, defense, and practice of the individual initiative and ordered liberty that lead to prosperity, strong families, and vibrant communities. So far, The Bradley Foundation has awarded over $1 billion in grants to almost 2,000 nonprofit organizations. This includes organizations supporting vibrant community life in Milwaukee and throughout Wisconsin, as well as organizations committed to preserving and defending the traditions of representative government and private enterprise that enable America to flourish.

Our Vision, Mission and Guiding Principles

Steadfastly adhering to the principles and examples of its namesakes, Lynde and Harry Bradley, The Bradley Foundation envisions a nation invigorated by the principles and institutions that uphold our unalienable rights to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

To further this vision, The Bradley Foundation pursues a mission to restore, strengthen, and protect the principles and institutions of American exceptionalism.

The Foundation has articulated the following guiding principles to inform its grantmaking:

- Fidelity to the Constitution, with its principles of limited government, federalism, separation of powers, and individual liberties;
- Commitment to free markets that allow for private enterprise, entrepreneurship, and voluntary exchange within the rule of law;
- Commitment to the fundamental institutions of civil society that cultivate individuals capable of self-governance; and
- Dedication to the formation of informed and capable citizens.

Additional 2019 Bradley Supported Programs

In addition to grant making, The Bradley Foundation promotes its grant recipients, highlights research and scholarship aligned with its guiding principles, and facilitates discussion on ideas that advance freedom and free enterprise. Here are some highlights from 2019:

16th Annual Bradley Prizes – The Bradley Prizes honor individuals whose outstanding achievements reflect The Bradley Foundation’s mission to restore, strengthen and protect the principles and institutions of American exceptionalism. Winners, who each receive a stipend of $250,000, were chosen by a selection committee that reviewed nearly 200 nominations. On May 7th, 2019, in Washington, DC, the Foundation and more than 375 attendees celebrated the following distinguished recipients:

Roger Kimball

Editor and Publisher of
The New Criterion;
President and Publisher of
Encounter Books; and author

Janice Rogers Brown

Former U.S. Circuit Judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit

James Grant

Founder and Editor of Grant’s
Interest Rate Observer and author

2019 Bradley Symposium – In conjunction with the Prizes celebration, The Bradley Foundation convened prominent intellectuals for a symposium on “The State of the Constitution.” Held at The Heritage Foundation, panelists addressed ways to strengthen our constitutional republic and restore America’s promise.

2019 Bradley Forum – Bradley Forums bring together distinguished scholars and opinion leaders from organizations supported by The Bradley Foundation to provide informative and engaging discussions on opportunities to advance freedom and free enterprise.

This year a forum was held at the American Legislative Exchange Council’s annual meeting in Austin, Texas, to provide a critical and timely conversation on the negative impact of environmental, social and governance issues on the free market system and how state policies can help mitigate the threat.

Bradley Prizes Reception – In 2019, The Bradley Foundation held its first-ever reception on Capitol Hill at The Library of Congress. Hosted in partnership with The Heritage Foundation, the reception was an opportunity for policymakers, intellectuals, and opinion leaders to meet Bradley Prize recipients and learn more about The Bradley Foundation’s mission. Remarks were delivered by Senator Pat Toomey, a former member of the Foundation’s Board of Directors, and Edwin J. Feulner, Jr., founder of The Heritage Foundation.
