Re: FOIA Appeal to Agency Release Panel, # F-2020-01331

Dear Agency Release Panel:

This letter constitutes a timely administrative appeal under the Freedom of Information Act (“FOIA”), 5 U.S.C. § 552, and applicable regulations, 32 C.F.R. § 1900, with respect to FOIA request #F-2020-01331.

On April 27, 2020, the Open Society Justice Initiative (“Justice Initiative”) submitted a FOIA request (“Request”) to the Central Intelligence Agency (“CIA”). The Request sought release of records concerning the timing and substance of the Executive Branch’s response to the novel coronavirus, now known as severe acute respiratory syndrome coronavirus 2 or “SARS-CoV-2,” the virus that causes the disease known as coronavirus disease 2019 or “COVID-19.”<sup>1</sup>

On April 29, 2020, the CIA acknowledged receipt of the Request. The CIA stated that it had determined that the Request was entitled to expedited processing because the requester was “primarily engaged in disseminating information,” and the information requested was “relevant to a subject of public urgency concerning an actual or alleged federal activity.”<sup>2</sup>

On May 12, 2020, the CIA issued a final response to the Request, summarily stating that “in accordance with Section 3.6(a) of Executive Order 13526, [it] could neither confirm nor deny the existence of records responsive to the Request.” It added: “[t]he fact of the existence or nonexistence of such records is itself currently and properly classified and is intelligence sources and methods information protected from disclosure by Section 6 of the CIA Act of 1949, as amended, and Section 102(A)(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended. Therefore, your request is denied pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3).”<sup>3</sup>

<sup>3</sup> See Exhibit C: Letter from Mark Lilly, Information and Privacy Coordinator, to Amrit Singh, May 12, 2020.

The CIA's summary response entirely fails to meet the agency's burden under the FOIA of demonstrating that it is entitled to refuse to confirm or deny the existence of records responsive to the Request. The Justice Initiative's Request does not seek disclosure of the government's efforts to counter terrorism or hostile military action. Rather, it seeks information crucial for the public to assess the government's response to an ongoing public health crisis and to make informed decisions about life and physical safety. To date, COVID-19 has already taken more than 104,000 lives in the U.S.<sup>4</sup> The information requested could prove vital for assisting members of the public to take appropriate measures to protect themselves in the face of the pandemic.

Furthermore, Section 1.7 of Executive Order 13526 prohibits the classification of information in order to "conceal violations of law, inefficiency, or administrative error;" "prevent embarrassment to a person, organization, or agency" or "prevent or delay the release of information that does not require protection in the interest of the national security." It also provides that "[b]asic scientific research information not clearly related to the national security shall not be classified." Accordingly, the fact of the existence or nonexistence of responsive records is not properly classified. Nor has the CIA demonstrated that the existence or nonexistence of a single record responsive to the request is "intelligence sources and methods information protected from disclosure."

In addition, information about the CIA's role in the coronavirus is already in the public domain, as are official government statements acknowledging the intelligence community's role in government's response to the virus.<sup>5</sup> This further confirms that the CIA's blanket refusal to confirm or deny the existence of responsive records is untenable.

Thank you for your prompt attention to this Appeal. Please send all correspondence by email to Amrit Singh at amrit.singh@opensocietyfoundations.org.

Amrit Singh

in Wuhan posted a notice that they were investigating an outbreak of pneumonia in the city, and the World Health Organization (“WHO”) acknowledged that on that date it “was informed of a cluster of cases of pneumonia of unknown cause.”<sup>20</sup> As of January 3, 2020, Chinese authorities reported a total of 44 patients with pneumonia of unknown etiology to the WHO.<sup>21</sup>

Media reports provide varying accounts of when the U.S. Executive Branch first received notice of what is now known as SARS-CoV-2. ABC News reported, for example, that a November intelligence report by the military’s National Center for Medical Intelligence (“NCMI”) detailed concerns about what is now known as SARS-CoV-2, and the report “was briefed multiple times” to the Defense Intelligence Agency (“DIA”), the Pentagon’s Joint Staff, and the White House.<sup>22</sup> According to the New York Times, in early January 2020, the State Department’s epidemiologist wrote in a report to the director of national intelligence that the virus was likely to spread across the globe and become a pandemic, and NCMI independently arrived at the same conclusion.<sup>23</sup> The New York Times also reported that in January 2020, U.S. intelligence agencies regularly provided information about the global danger of what is now known as SARS-CoV-2 to Executive Branch officials and members of Congress, including in daily briefing papers and digests from the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (“ODNI”) and the Central Intelligence Agency (“CIA”).<sup>24</sup> According to the Washington Post, on January 3, 2020, a Chinese official informed Robert Redfield, Director for the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (“CDC”), of the outbreak of a respiratory illness in the city of Wuhan.<sup>25</sup> Redfield relayed the report to Alex Azar, Secretary for Health and Human Services (“HHS”), who reportedly relayed it to the White House.<sup>26</sup>

Although the Executive Branch has publicly promised transparency, the White House reportedly ordered federal health officials to treat top-level coronavirus meetings as classified to keep meeting participation low and prevent leaks.<sup>27</sup> Classification prevented relevant officials from attending the meetings because they did not possess the requisite security clearances.<sup>28</sup>

On January 21, 2020, the CDC publicly confirmed the first U.S. novel coronavirus case, what is now known as SARS-CoV-2, in the state of Washington.<sup>29</sup> In a memorandum dated January 29, 2020, Peter Navarro, President Trump’s trade advisor, warned the White House of “a full-blown pandemic, imperiling the lives of millions of Americans.”<sup>30</sup> Although President Trump said he did not know about the memorandum at that time, press reports indicate that the President knew about it and was unhappy that Navarro had put his warning in writing.<sup>31</sup> The same day, the White House announced the formation of “a coronavirus task force,” while noting that “[t]he risk of infection for Americans remains low.”<sup>32</sup>

On January 30, 2020, the WHO declared the outbreak a “Public Health Emergency of International Concern.”<sup>33</sup> Hours after that declaration, President Trump said during a speech on trade at a Michigan manufacturing plant, that the virus was “going to have a very good ending for us. So that I can assure you.”<sup>34</sup>

The WHO began supplying diagnostic test kits to various countries in January, but the U.S. did not use that test, choosing to develop its own.<sup>35</sup> Contrary to an April 2018 agreement between the CDC and three of the biggest associations involved in lab testing, the Executive Branch reportedly prevented non-government laboratories from assisting in testing.<sup>36</sup> The CDC released a flawed test in February 2020 that took weeks to correct.<sup>37</sup>

The Executive Branch has responded disparately to state governors’ requests for drugs, medical supplies and equipment, prompting questions about whether politics influenced their allocation across states.<sup>38</sup>

From January until early March 2020, President Trump continued to downplay the threat posed by the novel coronavirus.<sup>39</sup> On January 22, President Trump said he was not worried about a pandemic, stating, “We have it totally under control...It’s one person coming in from China, and we have it under control. It’s going to be just fine.”<sup>40</sup> On January 24, President Trump tweeted that the “United States greatly appreciates [China’s] efforts and transparency,” and “it will all work out well.”<sup>41</sup> On February 7, 2020, he tweeted that “as the weather starts to warm...the virus hopefully becomes weaker, and then gone.”<sup>42</sup> On February 10, he stated at a New Hampshire rally, “looks like, by April, you know, in theory, when it gets a little warmer, it miraculously goes away.”<sup>43</sup> On February 24, he tweeted that “[t]he Coronavirus is very much under control in the USA.”<sup>44</sup> On March 7, President Trump publicly stated that “[a]nybody that needs a test, gets a test. They’re there. They have the tests. And the tests are beautiful.”<sup>45</sup>

On March 13, 2020, however, President Trump declared a national state of emergency to combat the novel

C. APPLICATION FOR EXPEDITED PROCESSING

The Justice Initiative requests expedited processing pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E), as the information and records requested are urgently needed to inform the public about actual or alleged government activity, see 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(v)(II), and as explained below, the Justice Initiative is an organization “primarily engaged in disseminating information...to inform the public concerning” that activity. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(v)(I-II). In addition, the Justice Initiative requests expedition on the grounds that failure to obtain requested records on an expedited basis could reasonably be expected to pose an imminent threat to the life or physical safety of an individual. See 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(v)(I).

The Executive Branch’s efforts to counter SARS-CoV-2 are literally a matter of life and death for the American public. The virus is quickly spreading, killing thousands of people daily in the United States.<sup>59</sup> As of April 27, 2020, there were nearly one million confirmed cases of COVID-19 and over 55,000 individuals had died from the virus in the United States.<sup>60</sup> The eventual national death toll will be in the tens to hundreds of thousands, according to estimates by health experts and the government.<sup>61</sup>

The timing and content of the Executive Branch’s response to the novel coronavirus, including what it knew or should have known about the virus and when, what measures it has taken to stem the spread, and how it is has engaged with Congress, state governors, WHO and other relevant bodies, is the subject of ongoing and intense public debate.<sup>62</sup> Executive Branch officials have issued conflicting statements about the threat of the virus, the availability of testing, the duration of the risk of transmission, and the efficacy of masks and particular medications and treatment for the disease.<sup>63</sup> As such, there is significant uncertainty about how to interpret government statements and actions relevant for determining how individuals in the U.S. should protect themselves from the coronavirus.<sup>64</sup> Significantly, after President Trump publicly suggested that

Chloroquine was a possible “game changer,” a man died and his wife was hospitalized after the couple ingested a form of the chemical.<sup>65</sup> The day after the President suggested that a disinfectant injection could counter the virus, New York City’s poison control center reported receiving a higher-than-normal number of calls, many of them relating to exposure to disinfectants.<sup>66</sup>

In this context, failure to obtain the requested records on an expedited basis could reasonably be expected to pose an imminent threat to the life or physical safety of individuals in the United States. The information requested here is urgently needed for individuals in the United States to assess the government’s response to the virus and to make informed decisions about life and physical safety.

Furthermore, the Justice Initiative is “primarily engaged in disseminating information” within the meaning of the FOIA.<sup>67</sup> Am. Civil Liberties Union v. Dep’t of Justice, 321 F. We affirm that information and statements concerning the need for expedited processing are true and correct to the best of our knowledge and belief.

D. APPLICATION FOR FEE WAIVER

We request a waiver of search, review and duplication fees on the grounds that disclosure of the requested information “is in the public interest because it is likely to contribute significantly to public understanding of the operations or activities of the government and is not primarily in the commercial interest of the requester.” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(iii).

As set forth in Section C above, the information and records at issue will contribute significantly to the public understanding of the timing and content of the government’s response to COVID-19. Moreover, the Justice Initiative, a non-profit entity, does not seek disclosure of these records for commercial gain and intends to disseminate the information disclosed from this request to the public at no cost.

As such, it is entitled to a fee waiver. See 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(ii)(II); see also Judicial Watch, Inc. v. Rossotti, 326 F.3d 1309, 1312 (D.C. Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(ii)(I) and 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i), respectively, we look forward to your reply to the request for expedited processing within ten calendar days, and to the request for disclosure within twenty days.

We request that responsive records be provided electronically in their native file format, if possible. See 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(3)(B). Alternatively, we request that the records be provided electronically in a text-searchable, static-image format (PDF), in the best image quality in the agency’s possession, and that the records be provided in separate, Bates-stamped files.

If this request is denied in whole or part, please justify all withholdings by reference to specific exemptions and statutes, as applicable. For each withholding please also explain why your agency “reasonably foresees that disclosure would harm an interest protected by an exemption” or why “disclosure is prohibited by law[.]” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(8)(A)(i). We seek the release of all segregable portions of otherwise exempt material, see 5 U.S.C. § 552(b). We also reserve the right to appeal any decision in relation to this Request.
